Internship Program Admissions

Briefly describe in narrative form important information to assist potential applicants in assessing their likely fit with your program. This description must be consistent with the program's policies on intern selection and practicum and academic preparation requirements:

AACI offers 6 full-time doctoral level internship positions in clinical psychology. Interns have the choice of applying to 4 unique clinical tracks (Adult/Older Adult (AOA), Family & Children (F&C), Center for Survivors of Torture (CST), and Integrated Behavioral Health (IBH)). The aim of the AACI Doctoral Internship in Clinical Psychology is to train the next generation of culturally-sensitive mental health providers to effectively work with underserved members of the community in a trauma-informed and holistic manner. Our systematic training program integrates evidence-based practices and multicultural competence, and prepares interns for professional clinical licensure. AACI is a community mental health center. Interns see clients at the agency, as well as in community-based settings such as the client's home, school, and other locations in order to meet the client where they are at in an accommodating and clinically-sound manner. Interns will hone their clinical skills in therapeutic interactions with adults and children, as well as clients with severe mental health (SMI) diagnoses, and clients who have experienced complex trauma. Interns are also supported in the development of their psychological testing ability as they are asked to complete various types of psychological assessments throughout the training year, including diagnostic clarifications, neuropsychological evaluations, asylum evaluations, and hardship evaluations.

Does the program require that applicants have received a minimum number of hours of the following at time of application? If Yes, indicate how many:
