Dear Friends,

We were thrilled to celebrate AACI’s 40th anniversary in 2013, and we’re grateful to everyone who has supported us throughout the years to reach this milestone. Many of you participated in a series of celebratory events including a community art project highlighting four decades of service, our first ever 5K Run for Wellness, and a gala with over 700 attendees and memorable dance entertainment. It was quite a year!

We’re proud to have served nearly 15,000 individuals this past year with comprehensive health and human services. One of our clients said, “This is a safe place,” and I was reminded how AACI must continue to be a safety net for the community.

As we look ahead, we see exciting opportunities for AACI. We’re expanding our health center, as AACI recently became a funded Federally Qualified Health Center (FQHC). We launched our youth leadership and civic engagement program called LEAD (Leaders for Education, Advocacy and Democracy), formerly administered by Vision New America, where students are trained, mentored, and placed in internships at the offices of elected officials and nonprofit organizations. And our Board of Directors adopted a new three-year strategic plan that will guide us as we grow, lead, and advocate on issues impacting our community.

I want to extend my deepest gratitude to our supporters, volunteers, staff, and partners who share AACI’s mission of improving the health, mental health, and well-being of individuals, families, and the Asian community. So much has been accomplished in the last 40 years, yet there are still many unmet needs. Together, I know that we can continue to meet these challenges and support healthy lives and build healthy communities.

Sincerely,

Michele Lew
President and CEO
